In the beginning there is generally the question: What can I do for you and your company? Your answers are the basis for my work.

The implementation of the objectives set by the client / employer is without discussion, the most important position of the task fulfillment.

AND, I will offer you various positions of physical and economic enterprise security, optionally. I will provide you with relevant suggestions and solutions.*

Through my own logistical leadership, I succeed in fulfilling the security-related tasks entrusted to me.

What I will do ... is giving you optimal and rational assistance.

Hands-on positions, I deliver exclusively upon thorough review and suitability to the respective external companies or internal staff

The foundation stone and basis for me as a service provider in the private security industry was my education and service with military units of the NVA / Bundeswehr, to provide them my valuable services as a client / employer from inside and also from the outside.

The true question that Caesar had already asked "Quis costodiet ipos / ... Who will guard the guards themselves?"

The basis for my work as Interim Manager Security or Corporate Consultant & Analyst Security for physical and economic corporate security is the experience of more than 25 years within the German private security industry.

In addition, there are various international assignments in Europe, North Africa and Asia (partial) where I could prove my knowledge in field of service.

"No advice often means twice the cost"

John Ruskin already knew that and it still applies today "The Law of the Economy forbids it to receive much value for little money. Take the lowest bid
You need to add something to the risk you are taking. And if you do that
You also have enough money to pay for something better. "
